Wedding.

Christ Church last night was the scene of a large and notable gathering, the occasion being the wedding of Miss Mary Ramsay, fourth daughter of Mr. G. Wm. Ramsay, of this city, and Rev. William Andrews Brown, rector of the Episcopal Church at Pulaski. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock, the bride being attended by her father, who gave her in marriage, and the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and were met by the ushers, and proceeded to the altar, where the groom and his best man, his brother, Mr. Harry Runyan Brown, of Lynchburg, awaited them. The ceremony was then performed by Right Rev. Alfred M. Randolph, bishop of the diocese of Southern Virginia, assisted by Rev. Berryman Green, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, and Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, this city. The bride was given in white satin, trimmed with chignon and pearl ornaments, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Hallie Ramsay, sister of the bride, wore white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of cream roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Janet Fawcett, Miss Susie S. Fawcett, Miss Edith Ramsay, Miss Mary Hoppus Reed, of this city, Miss Mary Cumpton, of Washington, and Miss Myrtle Brown, of Danville, a sister of the groom, wore gowns of white crepe de chine and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with long streamers of white tulle. The ushers were Messrs. Dennis Ramsay, a brother of the bride; Clarence C. Leadbeater, Wallace H. Fawcett, George Dennis Johnston, of this city; Rev. Morris S. Eagle, of Danville, and Rev. William J. Morton, of Baltimore. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father on Cameron street. Later Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for a northern tour, and upon their return will reside at Pulaski. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Reese, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Henry W. Brown, father of the groom; Miss Sarah Brown, his sister, of Danville; Miss Louise Spear and Miss Barry, of Baltimore; Miss Ellen Stabler, of Sandy Spring, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cumpton, of Washington, D. C.

Incandescent Lights.

The Mayor this morning in speaking of electric lights being supplied to our citizens by the railway company, expressed himself as being emphatically opposed to the whole plan. It is true, he said, that he had signed several individual bills passed by the City Council, but he did it in direct opposition to his better judgment and only because he was sincerely averse to antagonizing the unanimous voice of the City Council, and further because he naturally supposed that there would not be a continuance of the injurious and reprehensible practice. He believes that the charter of the railway company does not invest it with the privilege of disposing of current for illuminating purposes, as it would be a comprehensive grant indeed if a railway were empowered to use current for the propulsion of cars and also for the lighting of cities. If, however, electricity can be lawfully furnished our people by the company, then such service should be a source of revenue to our people as a whole, for the electricity thus supplied is only after all, the surplus which the company would otherwise waste and, therefore, what is clear gain to the company should, at least, be divided with our city. Electricity is said to be more costly to consumers than gas, and this being true, it is easy to perceive that the railway company would derive a handsome revenue with the popular use of electric lights by our citizens. The Mayor concluded by saying that matters of this character should be boldly and independently considered, and that an ordinance should be passed that would put at least one-half of the proceeds from electric lights into the city treasury and that would require the railway company to report the names of all electric light patrons and the amounts paid by them for the use of such lights.

Slow Work.

City Engineer Dunn today entered formal complaint with the Mayor against the electric railway company and their contractor engaged in laying tracks and doing other work on King street, charging that the work is being unnecessarily delayed and that not a sufficient force of men is engaged to complete the work in a reasonable time. The Mayor notified Superintendent Colvin of the railway company, and Mr. Weadon, the contractor for the work, of the City Engineer's charge, and notified them that he would at once take steps to have the work done more expeditiously, or fine them for obstructing the street. The work of the city contractors is progressing satisfactorily. The pavers have reached Alfred street and the cobblestones have been removed as far up as Henry street. The new curbing is being laid from that thoroughfare to Fayette street. The contractors are endeavoring to finish the work before the advent of cold weather.

Hallowe'en.

Tomorrow will be Hallowe'en, and the young people are making preparations for appropriately celebrating the occasion. In this connection it can be stated that the Mayor has given instructions to the police to prevent any disorders on the streets tomorrow night. He has no idea of interfering with innocent amusement, but disorderly or boisterous conduct, such as throwing stones, vegetables, &c., at peoples' doors will be stopped, and any one caught playing such pranks will be at once fined or otherwise punished.

Corporation Court.

[Judge J. K. M. Norton presiding.] W. H. Smith vs. R. E. Cox, sergeant, administrator, decedent's estate, for report. Emma E. McCuen was appointed guardian of her child, Clarence McCuen.

Personal.

Mr. Charles Dearborn, now of Fredericksburg, is in the city on a short visit to his old home. The Rev. Reverend Estill announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Louise Christian Estill, to Mr. Walter Russell Winfree, of Lynchburg. The wedding will be quietly solemnized on Wednesday morning, November 12, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Louisville, Ky. Miss Estill has a number of relatives and friends in this city.

Mr. George W. Petty, who was recently injured in Washington by a car striking his bicycle, is able to be out again.

Mr. C. R. Yates went to Culpeper yesterday to attend the wedding of his sister, Miss Louise G. Yates, and Mr. T. N. Sellers, which took place at Bethel Church in that county. Rev. Thomas Grimsley performed the ceremony.

Mr. R. H. Lambert continues quite ill at his home on Duke street.

Judge Norton, who has been quite sick for the past few days, is able to be out again.

Mr. Horace Ramey is confined to his home on south Royal street by sick ness.

River Notes.

There is nothing of special interest to note in affairs on the river. The Norfolk, Baltimore and river steamers arrived and depart on schedule time without having anything of importance to report. A fog settled on the river shortly after the sun rose this morning and for a time interfered with navigation.

Barge No. 52 of the Standard Oil Company, a new vessel, is now at this port. She is capable of carrying several thousand gallons of oil, and is equipped with powerful pumps to aid in loading and unloading. She is constructed entirely of steel, even to her deck houses, and is as near fireproof as she can be made. It is understood that the barge will be used exclusively for the transportation of oil from Baltimore and Philadelphia to this city and Washington.

The schooner James R. Teal, from Church Creek, Dorchester county, Md., with canned goods for Alexandria dealers, has arrived at Mr. De W. Aitchison's wharf.

Bridge Plans Changed.

Secretary Root has ordered a change in the plans for the superstructure of the projected highway bridge across the Potomac so that it will be similar in form to the bridge that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is building near by. As the original design for the railroad bridge was changed for the sake of making the sky-line straight and continuous, at the instance of Architect Barnham, who was consulted by Mr. Root, the Secretary of War has decided that it is only fair to require a similar effect on the government bridge. The railroad company had intended to use a plain Howe truss, but the span ends over the piers will be filled with concrete. The army engineers had planned a "bow string" or arch truss, which they regarded as more ornamental than the rectangular Howe truss.

County Court.

[Judge J. M. Love presiding.] Com. vs. Daniel Harmon; appeal from a magistrate's decision, by which he had been sentenced to pay a fine for gambling; jury and verdict of guilty and sentence of magistrate fining him $30 affirmed.

Com. vs. Lew Crawford, for abusive language; appeal from a magistrate's decision; appeal affirmed and fine increased from $2 to $5 and costs.

The special grand jury returned indictments against William Goings for assault on Millard R. Birch, and against Robert Jackson for maliciously cutting Harrie Pines.

Court adjourned until tomorrow when a time will be set for the trial of Goings.

Held for Examination.

Among the cases before the Mayor this morning were those of two young men who were suffering from temporary aberration of mind superinduced by the abuse of stimulants. They will be held for medical examination. Such cases are not uncommon on the dockets of all police courts, and the victims are generally young men who have been bitten by the most venomous of serpents in their paths. They are sad pictures and terrible object lessons to all who persist in following the broad road which inevitably leads to the wreck of both body and mind.

High School Team Victorious.

The Episcopal High School eleven, of Alexandria, defeated the Central High School team of Washington, on the gridiron of the former yesterday afternoon by the score of 12 to 5. Magoffin carried the ball over Episcopals' goal, but that ended the scoring for the Central school boys. Crawford and Walker each made touchdowns for the Alexandria team, from which goals were kicked. Magoffin and Kelly played the best game for the Centrals, while Crawford, Clark, and Hoge were the stars of the Episcopal team.

Reinicker Lectures.

The first course of these lectures will take place at the Theological Seminary, near this city, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, being the 4th, 5th, and 6th of November. The hours for the several lectures are 5 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, and 12 m. on Thursday. The lecturer is Right Rev. Charles S. Olmstead, D. D., Bishop of Colorado. He has announced as the subject of the course "The Discipline of Perfection." The lectures are as usual open to the general public.

Lecture.

Rev. O. F. Lippert, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church of this city, will deliver a lecture in that Church on Thursday evening, November 6. His lectures are sensible, logical, instructive and humorous. No admission will be charged to hear the lecture, but during the evening a silver offering will be taken up for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of that church.

The Weather.

The temperature last night and early this morning was decidedly frigid. The heaviest frost of the season and skins of ice were formed. The wind changed from the northwest to south this morning, and as the sun ascended higher in the heavens the temperature rose with it.

A man who was at work painting the residence of Mr. George Emmert, on Fayette street yesterday evening fell from a ladder and was slightly hurt.
